I would like to thank Dave and Barb King and Ned Neuhaus for their work on redesigning the Support Group's brochure, and to Dave for all the leg work of getting it set up and printed. If you have a Doctor, Therapist, or some other place that you think we should have these in place please let us know.

Support Groups
bring people together facing similar issues.

At the Central Illinois Parkinson's Support Group, we focus on what people living with Parkinson's, their care partners and family members face on a daily basis.

Meetings, held once a month, generally feature an expert speaker or program and are free to participants.

Members have time to ask questions and get advice from others. They also offer an opportunity to socialize and share personal experiences.
